Project Chrysalis RFP Concepts

Concept 1

Phases of transformation

The concept of the Monarch butterfly emerging from the chrysalis symbolises the transformative journey from legacy systems to cloud-first, future-ready operations.

The section divider slides of the deck visually represents a step in the metamorphosis. From protection and preparation within the chrysalis to the moment of emergence and eventual flight. This mirrors the phased, strategic nature of the Infosys–Google Cloud approach.

By incorporating Google Green and Yellow, the design aligns with Google’s brand and reflects a shared focus on innovation, growth, and resilient transformation.

Project Chrysalis RFP Concepts

Concept 2

The Precision Fold

This concept uses origami as a metaphor for purposeful transformation, reflecting how Infosys is helping Google Cloud shape the next phase of operational evolution.

The main image features an origami-style Monarch butterfly, one half in its natural form and the other in Google’s signature colours — symbolising precision, partnership, and progress.

Set against a white paper-textured background with geometric accents inspired by Google’s design language, the concept conveys clarity, structure, and innovation. The tactile paper surface reinforces the idea of deliberate craftsmanship, echoing how Project Chrysalis is unfolding with care and intent.
